The International Centre for the Prevention of Crime (ICPC) is currently accepting applications for the following position:

Research assistant

For the last 25 years, ICPC has contributed to the development and implementation of effective policies, programs and tools, promoting the development of more inclusive and safer societies and communities. ICPC fulfills its mission in three ways: mobilizing and transferring knowledge, applied research and methodological development and capacity building and support for stakeholders. The Centre brings together members, including NGOs, municipalities and governments from different regions of the world, in addition to working in collaboration with the United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime (UNODC) and the United Nations Program United Nations on human settlements (UN-Habitat).

MAIN RESPONSIBILITIES

The research assistant will be responsible for supporting the work of the project manager in:

- the development, implementation, coordination and evaluation of various projects aimed at the prevention of crime and violence;
- the collection, analysis and interpretation of quantitative and qualitative data;
- Other related tasks.

The person sought must hold a master's degree or be in the process of obtaining a master's degree, and have experience and knowledge related to research, in one of the following disciplines: sociology, political science, anthropology, law, psychology, town planning or criminology. In addition, the candidate must be bilingual (French and English), have excellent drafting skills in both languages, mainly in French. Understanding of another language, especially Spanish, is an asset.

WORKING CONDITIONS

- Young and dynamic team, with varied and multidisciplinary backgrounds.
- The salary will be established according to the qualifications and experience of the candidate.
- Fixed-term contract from September - December 2020, with the possibility of renewal.

Please send your CV and cover letter before September 15, 2020.
